Motor Club Services

Motor Club Services can keep you in the fast lane, but consumers should carefully weigh their options before settling into the driver's seat.

Things to consider before joining the club

Motor clubs are organizations, either for profit or non-profit, which offer motorists certain benefits provided by the motor club related to automobiles. Some clubs offer a variety of non-auto needs such as health, life and homeowners insurance policies, travel guides & travel information, financial and educational programs.

Consumers should first look to see if the company offering the motor club services and its representatives are licensed with the South Carolina Department of Consumer Affairs and in compliance with the Motor Club Services Act. They should also know their rights under the law by visiting our website listed below.

Consumers may receive a current list of motor clubs by contacting the SCDCA's Legal Division. Specific questions about motor club services or contracts may also be directed to the Legal Division.

Motor club service contracts and fees

Contracts should include the name of the corporation or motor club and the location of the main office that handles consumer questions. Consumers should shop and compare before deciding on a contract that best suits their needs.

The individual motor club fee may vary for different services offered in the contract. Normally there is an annual membership fee to join. Members are usually issued an identification card upon joining that is valid for the duration of the membership.
